

Surplus Food Collection Volunteer

About the role

As a Surplus Food Collection volunteer you'll play a vital part in making our community meals happen, by ensuring that your weekly FoodCycle session has a regular donation of food. You'll pick up surplus food donations from our partner supermarkets and local retailers, ensuring a prompt, reliable and friendly collection each week. You'll then bring the surplus food back to your local Project venue and store it securely. You can do this on foot, by bike or by car!

You don't need to have any previous experience – you just need to be passionate about food and reducing the amount of food that's wasted in our society!

About FoodCycle

Week in, week out we nourish the hungry and lonely in our communities with delicious meals and great conversation, using food which would otherwise go to waste.

FoodCycle aims to:

- Connect communities
- Support mental health and wellbeing
- Nourish the hungry
- Promote sustainability
- Inspire change

A FoodCycle Project is where the magic happens. Each Project is run on the ground by a team of lead volunteers called Project Leaders, who ensure the smooth running of their FoodCycle Project. Project Leaders are passionate, committed and want to make a positive change within their community. They take ownership and make decisions about the day-to-day running of their Project.
